

Thank you for your interest in becoming a volunteer at US Vet Source. Volunteers are the driving force behind the success of US Vet Source. There are many Vets just waiting to catch a break and you could be the very one who could give him or her that break. There are many ways to help US Vet Source and in doing so help a Vet. Let's face it, he or she has done their part in keeping us all safe and secure. The freedoms we enjoy today we have because of them. Now we have the opportunity to say thank you.

Again the mission of US Vet Source is to make the transition from military life to civilian life as easy as possible. To provide a kind ear, be a true friend and to assist in making that transition smooth and stress free.
